BEAUTIFUL WEDDING.

Miss Daisye Rogers the Bride of Mr. Carter Smith.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

WARFIELD, VA., June 17.—Lebanon Church was the scene of a very pretty marriage, the occasion being the wedding of Miss Daisye Rogers to Mr. Carter Smith. As Miss F. May Barrow rendered Mendelssohn's wedding march on the organ, the bridal party entered the church in the following order: Mr. Robert Cheely, with Miss Minnle House: Mr. Ivy Cunningham, with Miss Lula Winn: Mr. A. T. Bishop, with Miss Bessle Williams; Mr. Willie Jones, with Miss Bessle Howerton; Mr. Werner Cheely, with Miss Essie Rogers. Then the bride entered with her maid of honor, Miss Manie Wall. The groom, with his best man, entered from an opposite door, and as they met at the altar, which was beautifully decorated with vergreens, respiendent with wax tapers, the Rev. N. J. Pruden performed the ceremony which made them man and wife. Little Misses Edna Rogers, a sister of the bride, and Bessle Cunningham acted as flower girls.

After the ceremony an elegant reception was given the bridal party by Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Rogers, the bride's parents.
